S.A.C. ASSOCIATION FORMED

The President, George Armstrong, described the background for setting up the new Association in the following remarks:

"Forming this Association is in reality an extension of the original concept of the Founders of St. Andrew's College. It was in 1899 that a group of men in Toronto shared the opinion that there was a need for a better balanced education for young men than existing institutions offered. For any one individual to undertake the task of setting up a school was too onerous and expensive, and thus the group decided it should be a joint venture. Under the chairmanship of Mr. John K. Macdonald, the group obtained a charter and set up St. Andrew's College with Rev. Dr. George Bruce as Headmaster. A few years later, in 1908, the school surrendered its charter as a private corporation and became a non-profit educational trust.

To-day, 69 years later, this fundamental concept remains the same. We confidently believe St. Andrew's does offer something better than the publicly supported and publicly administered system. You who are here presumably agree, either from personal experience or because you believe it is the right environment for your son. However, many of us feel that the role St. Andrew's plays can be even more effective if we have the benefit of advice and participation in its affairs from all those who have an interest in the College. It is obvious that it also requires the widest possible financial support.

Through its Old Boys' Association, which came into being formally in 1904, graduates of S.A.C. have had a voice in its affairs and government. In the Ladies Guild, formed in 1935, the School has had a dedicated group of mothers, wives, sisters and yes, grandmothers, who have been responsible for many of the facilities enjoyed by the students to-day. However, it has been only very informally that we have enjoyed the direct participation of fathers, apart from paying the fees! Joining all these groups into one "family" of Andreans seems a logical move to make."

Culminating many months of meetings and discussions involving the Board of Governors, the Board of Trustees of the S.A.C. Foundation, Old Boys' Association, Ladies Guild, the Staff and administration of the School, the St. Andrew's College Association came into being on May 23, 1968. Essentially this new organization expands the former Old Boys' Association to include parents of students and all members of the aforementioned groups into one overall association interested in St. Andrew's College. Membership is automatic for all in these groups and there are no dues or fees. Friends of the School who do not fall into any of these categories may also become members by a resolution of the Council. Although included as a part of the Association with representation on the Council, The Ladies Guild maintains its separate identity with its own officers and conducts its own affairs.

To quote from the Constitution, the objects of the Association are "to provide an active and widespread organization to promote the overall well being of the College and specifically:

- (a) to promote good fellowship among the members
- (b) to provide financial support for the College through annual giving by its members to the St. Andrew's College Foundation".

Affairs of the Association are managed by the Council of which 50% must be Old Boys and which includes representation from each of the other groups, and the Executive Director who maintains an office at the School in Aurora. For the first year Council members have been appointed by the Board of Governors, and thereafter will be elected at the Annual Meeting for a three year term, one third retiring each year. The Council for 1968 comprises the following:

1967-68 SPORTS HIGHLIGHTS

This past year has been a good one in sports for S.A.C. Our First Rugby team captured the All-Ontario Seven-a-Side Championship, Open Class, for the second year in a row. A one day elimination tournament held in the month of May, this year's event attracted 87 teams from 54 schools in the province and from outside. St. Andrew's entered teams in the Open, Senior, Junior and Bantam classes, and the Open team came through this gruelling test of stamina not only undefeated but without a single point scored against them, truly an outstanding achievement.

As noted in a previous issue of the Andean, the First Basketball and Swimming teams won the Little Big Four championship. The Junior swim team was also unbeaten in 7 dual meets.

In the Spring term the First Cricket Eleven was nosed out by U.C.C. who had two wins and a draw against S.A.C.'s two wins and one loss. The Tennis squad was unbeaten in all of its dual meets with other schools. 10 boys qualified for the Ontario Secondary Schools finals in track and field. All in all a very satisfactory year.

Prize Day

Threatened with rain until the moment proceedings commenced, Prize Day on June 3 again demonstrated that Headmaster Bob Coulter's gambling instinct paid off as the weatherman produced a warm and sunny few fours, long enough to hold it outdoors as planned. Guest speaker of the day was our distinguished Old Boy, Gordon R. McGregor, who recently retired as President of Air Canada. Mr. McGregor made a spectacular arrival, landing by helicopter on the Quad just behind the assembled guests and students. He was accompanied by his fellow Andrean and Chief Engineer of Air Canada, Jack T. Dymont.

Top student in Upper Sixth (Grade 13) this year was 17 year old G. C. Dunkley, of Sudbury, with an average of 92%. Geoff was presented with no fewer than 9 awards and prizes including the coveted Laidlaw Trophy, presented to the boy in Upper Sixth who has won for his Clan the greatest number of points during his last two years at the School.

Four boys achieved Ontario Scholarship standard of 80% or better, and an additional five boys had over 75%. At time of going to press 39 of 43 Grade 13 students have gained acceptance into university.

In the Lower School, T. J. Amell was awarded the King Memorial Trophy for the boy who most excels in studies, games, deportment and character.

Viewed from Dunlap Hall, guests and students hear Mr. Coulter's opening remarks. Mr. McGregor's helicopter in the background.

June Ball

Largest number of tickets sold — largest turnout — and a new high in net proceeds turned over to the Foundation for the Scholarship Program — that's the record of this year's June Ball, the wonderful party arranged by the Ladies Guild which now appears to be an annual affair. Mrs. Mary Macdonald and her committee deserve hearty congratulations for a hugely successful evening from every standpoint.

Once more the weatherman turned up with an ideal night, enabling most of the activity to take place outdoors. The School grounds are at their luxuriant best in the middle of June and provide such a fine setting for an outdoor affair.

Cocktails outside the Great Hall and a sumptuous buffet dinner inside, quickly used up the few hours from 6:30 until dusk, when Mart Kenney's music was heard on the quad. The pipes and drums of the 48th Highlanders under Pipe Major Ross Stewart again drew a large group for Scottish dancing behind Flavell House. These exhilarating dances have become increasingly popular. By the way, to those who have enquired what happened to the Celtic — this June Ball is something you shouldn't miss.
